Chamber fires manager- Bob Stinson resigns

The Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce is looking for its fourth manager in less than five months. In a decision taken at the Wednesday (October 5) meeting of the Chamber's board of directors, it was decided to fire the manager, Frank McCarron. At the same meeting, Bob Stinson who had been serving as a part-time marketing and sales representative, resigned from his post.

Chamber president Rhonda Elstone commenting on the dismissal said, "There was a feeling among board members that Frank had stepped on a lot of members' toes during his term. He was not being well received," she said.

Elstone said the division of responsibility which had taken place in April was simply "not working". She said "There were too many gray areas in administrative responsibilities. It was difficult to decide who was supposed to be doing which jobs and as a result they weren't getting done."

The president noted that former manager Bob Stinson had volunteered to step down from his part-time position to clear the way for the board to hire a new manager who would be responsible for all aspects of the chamber's operation.

Stinson, in a letter to the press, which appears in this week's edition of The Times, noted that he was in complete agreement with the actions taken by the board. His letter reads in part, "I wish to stress that I am in full agreement with the decision of the board and I believe it to be in the best interests of the Chamber and its members under the circumstances."

Elstone added that she felt the dismissal, "Was not a good situation," and that some members had expressed reservations about the actions the board had taken. However, she noted, "Others with whom I have discussed the situation have stated, 'the board had a problem and had to deal with it'."

The dismissed Chamber manager Frank McCarron

said he was disappointed by the board's action. He stated the board may have committed "hara kiri" by taking this action, particularly with the Chamber's annual meeting being scheduled for next week. In a statement McCarron said he would probably never return to the county again, a sentiment he said reflected his emotional reaction to the dismissal. "In the turbulent times ahead, the eyes of the county will no doubt be on the Chamber and its annual meeting," he added.

Elstone said the members of the Chamber are invited to bring their questions about the board's operation to the annual meeting slated for October 19. "We will attempt to answer any and all questions at the annual meeting," she said.

Four managers

It was back in April of this year when the board of directors announced a reorganization of the chamber's operation. The position of manager, at the time filled by Bob Stinson, would be split with Stinson looking after public relations and marketing on a part-time basis, while another person would be hired full-time to act as the manager.

After advertising and interviewing applicants for the post, the Chamber selected Paul Thompson in June as manager. However, after a week he retired from the position.

Frank McCarron was hired a few weeks later and served until last Wednesday when he was fired.

Chamber hires interim manager

Following a meeting of the Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce board of directors yesterday (Tuesday), an interim manager has been hired to carry on the operation of the organization.

John Stainton, a member of the board, will take over the position October 24. He is expected to carry on the duties until the end of the year when a special selection committee is expected to recommend the hiring of a full-time manager. That committee was established at the Tuesday meeting.

According to the president of the Chamber, Rhonda Elstone, Stainton is an employee at Locarno Lodge on Lake Kashagawigamog. He has a background in marketing and management. He has served on the Chamber's promotion committee.

Elstone said that Stainton intends to allow his name to stand for another term on the board when the chamber's annual meeting is held next Wednesday. "If he is successful in the election," she noted, "the board has decided he will be allowed to serve as interim manager but will not be allowed to participate as a voting member of the board."

Elstone said the chamber expects to have a new manager by January 1.

She said a special committee, headed by director Bill Kulas, will be created to find a replacement for the position. Kulas has announced that he will not stand for another term on the board at the annual meeting Wednesday, but that he would be willing to chair this special committee. The board of directors has decided to include representatives on the selection committee from outside the board of directors. "The selection committee will consist of Bill Kulas, a representative from County Council, a representative

Search yields suspect

An intensive search in the Little Kennis Lake area Tuesday has resulted in the arrest of an individual believed responsible for a series of break-ins at cottages on that lake and Kennis Lake.

The arrest follows a series of complaints received by police from area cottagers. They reported that an individual had broken into their cottages and had been living there for some period of time. In several instances the man was seen fleeing from a cottage as the people arrived for the weekend. In one instance he explained to the owners that he had been lost in the bush and had taken refuge in their cottage. However, the owners became suspicious when he fled the scene.

Before Tuesday morning, the individual was last seen Thursday when he apparently leapt from a 15 foot high bedroom window to flee as the owners arrived at their cottage. He was apparently injured in the jump. Among the items missing from that cottage were two pounds of bacon, three steaks and a quality of wine and whiskey.

Police converged on the area Tuesday morning using a tracking dog, a motor boat and a search team on foot. Constable Wim Magee was checking one cottage when he heard the kettle boiling inside. He called Constable Bob Wood to the scene and they entered the dwelling, arresting the suspect.

Charged with eight counts of break and enter (authorities suggest there could be more charges pending) is Robert Blair Clement.

Other break-ins

Police also report a rash of cottage break-ins have taken place in the Salerno-Conteau Lake region of Glamorgan Township. Six break-ins have been reported so far to the police. In most instances entry was gained by kicking in the door.

Among the items taken in the break-ins were firearms, power tools and a chain saw. The largest value of goods taken from one cottage was $1200.

Constable Brian Dunham is the investigating officer.

Police report

A Haliburton County resident was taken by air ambulance to Sunnybrook Hospital in Toronto following a car accident in the early morning hours of October 9.

Suzanne Bennett was the driver of a car which went out of control on a curve on Highway 121 near Ingoldsbey and left the road. The vehicle struck a rock cut throwing her from the car and resulting in what the authorities describe as serious injuries. The accident occurred at 1:30 a.m.

A passenger in the car, 18 year old Paul Mayo of Minden was taken to Haliburton Hospital for treatment of less serious injuries. He was later released.

Damage to the vehicle was estimated at $11,000. The accident was investigated by Constable Jim Solway.

Highway 35 mishap

A Downsview couple was injured following an accident Friday afternoon on Highway 35 near the Shangri-la Road in Stanhope Township. Paul Sobchak, 73, was the driver of a vehicle which was passing another when it left the roadway and entered the left ditch. He sustained minor injuries.

However, a passenger, 62 year old Jenny Sobchak, sustained serious injuries and was transferred from Minden Red Cross Hospital to Ross Memorial Hospital in Lindsay for treatment.

The damage to the car was estimated at $1,000. Constable Glenn Irving investigated.

from the board of directors and a citizen of the county," she explained. The individuals who will serve on the selection committee have not been named.

Elstone said she expected the selection committee to be in place by the board's first meeting which must take place within ten days of the annual meeting.

The president said the decision to hire an interim manager was taken, "because we felt we needed someone on the spot to run things. It gives us the breathing room needed while we make the selection of a new manager."

Provincial grant supports Haliburton hospital program

The Red Cross Hospital in Haliburton is to receive an annual grant of $16,300 to expand its out-patient physiotherapy services, it was announced by Health Minister Keith Norton.

The grant will allow the hospital to offer full-time physiotherapy to all of southern Haliburton County. The hospital now operates a part-time service in Haliburton.

The expanded service will begin as soon as a contract is signed with a local physiotherapist.

The Red Cross Hospital, which was recommended for funding by the Haliburton, Kawartha and Pine Ridge District Health Council, is one of 36 across the province to receive funds recently for new or expanded out-patient physiotherapy services. All the hospitals are located in areas designated underserved by the Health Ministry and the Ontario Physiotherapy Association.

"This program reflects the ministry's increasing emphasis on out-patient, community-based services and reaffirms our commitment to provide quality health care in all areas of the province," said Mr. Norton.

More than $800,000 will be added to the 36 hospitals' budgets to cover this year's start-up costs, salaries and operating expenses.

It is estimated that more than 13,000 people will receive physiotherapy each year under the new and expanded services.

The new service will be available in the following areas: Cochrane, Elgin, Grey-Bruce, Haliburton, Hastings, Huron, Kent, Leeds-Grenville, Lennox-Addington, Manitoulin-Sudbury, Middlesex, Muskoka, Nipissing, Northumberland, Ottawa, Prescott-Russell, Renfrew, Timiskaming, Waterloo.

Physiotherapists help

patients to regain muscular strength and improve co-ordination and range of movement through instruction and the development of suitable exercise programs.

Physiotherapy benefits many people including infants with birth defects, such as cerebral palsy and missing limbs, accident and stroke victims, and those who suffer from degenerative conditions such as arthritis.

Program will explore community values

As much as parents, teachers and other adults involved in raising children attempt to direct the decision of early teens, more often than not peer pressure can be the force which has the greatest impact on these young people. A new program being tested at Archie Stouffer School this year will hopefully assist students in dealing with the pressure to conform, particularly when the pressure is directed toward something they feel is wrong.

The program, called Project V.I.P. (Values, Influences and Peers), is co-ordinated by the Ministry of Education and the Ministry of the Solicitor General. Archie Stouffer grade 6 teacher Glen Carter and Minden detachment OPP community service officer, constable Gary Chapman attended the Meet The Teacher evening sponsored by the school's Home and School Association to explain the program.

The pilot project at the local school will be directed at students in grade six. This age group has been identified as the ones who would benefit the most from the project because they are entering a period of great physical change, have concerns about their sexual identity, group acceptance and are undergoing a great deal of emotional stress and confusion.

Under the program the students will discuss a number of topics which, it is hoped, will help them establish a personal value system, "which reflects the priorities of society and personal integrity." Chapman noted that while accepted values will be stressed, the program is open ended in that students will be allowed to place their own interpretation on what is being discussed. "The end result," Chapman said, "would be a society with less crime and better citizens."

The spokesman noted that at the grade six level is the first time youths may be tempted to experiment with drugs, petty crime, such as vandalism or theft. As well young people of this age are making value judgements that involve authority figures or dealing with others in their own group.

"It is widely accepted that the main reason for the involvement of your people in unlawful activities is peer influence and pressure," Chapman noted. "Perhaps this will not result in any change in this situation until youngsters learn to cope with negative peer influences."

According to the spokesman, the basis of the program is that young people with a positive self image will develop positive relationships with their peers and also be able to cope with the pressure that comes to bear on those who won't go along with the group.

The project will cover 32 periods and will involve discussions, role playing, the use of films and other material to establish a theme. The students will be encouraged to take part, relating their own fears and concerns as well as their experiences. On this last point Chapman notes special "no name" rule will apply. "We want the students to be open and free to speak," he indicated, "but we don't want the sessions to become a forum of accusation."

Among the topics to be included in the sessions are: from values to standards; creating impressions; belittling others; peer pressure; decision making; authority and authority figures; being truthful; dangers of drugs; vandalism; stealing; and youth and the law.

"serving the Highlands since 1953"

Varied musical menu offered by Guild

Dixieland music, Canadian folk songs and a symphony orchestra. This diverse menu of musical tastes is available to those subscribing to the Guild of Fine Arts Concert season this year. Details of the program for 1983-84 were announced recently as series tickets went on sale.

Leading off the presentations October 17 will be Felix and his Banjo Palace Band. This quartet of musicians has been described as a "high energy musical comedy act...that makes the eyes pop and feet tap to the rhythm of their songs." Their presentation covers a variety of musical styles, including Ragtime, Dixieland, country and Western, English Music Hall, Irish and Scottish tunes. The group covers a musical trip through time from the Gay Nineties to the Roaring Twenties. Interspersed through the program is an enjoyable blend of one line jokes and other humour.

Next on the concert series is a group called Tanglefoot. They are scheduled to appear March 21. "A banjo, guitar, mandolin and fiddle unite with musicians, actors and writers to bring to life songs and stories of early Canada," the promotional publicity notes. Appearing in period costumes, the performers draw their material from the early days of Canada, its history and culture. Augmenting the musical performance will be a visual display. On nine by twelve foot screens scenes of early Canada, in paintings and photographs, will be displayed.

On May 1, The London, Ontario, Sinfonia will appear. This 26 piece orchestra began in 1937 as the London Promenade Orchestra. Most recently they have received acclaim internationally as a fully professional symphony orchestra. The orchestra has appeared on national television and toured Italy. Their repertoire ranges from Mozart to Broadway.

Spokesman for the concert series, Donna Monk, noted that the program had been scheduled to avoid the worst of winter weather. She said that some patrons has been apprehensive about attending when the roads could be hazardous due to snow to ice. With the first concert in October and the second in March, that concern will pay $10 per program. Tickets are available in Minden from Donna Monk at 286-2036 or in Haliburton through the Rail's End Gallery 457-2330.

Credibility could suffer

The Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce has weathered a lot of rough seas in the past. It has been blasted by the press, abused by its members, called to task by elected officials and ignored by those whose endorsement could add a great deal to its standing in the community. Likewise, it has been praised by provincial officials, envied by other chambers and emulated by those wishing to duplicate its more successful programs.

Through the bouquets and brickbats the Chamber has forged ahead, rebounding under intense criticism and beaming when the rays of praise shone through the clouds. Its resiliency through all of this is a credit to the dedication which members, directors and staff have to the organization. The Chamber didn't always emerge stronger from its scraps but it was always the wiser for the experience.

We wonder, however, if the Chamber as an entity can survive this latest tumult without a serious loss to its credibility and effectiveness.

The outcome of this latest situation could indeed be that the organization providing the major source of funding for the Chamber will demand more control over its operation. While the Chamber is one which represents the interests of private business in the area, its largest single source of income comes from the county taxpayers. It is likely that members of county council will take a closer look at its financial support of the Chamber in the future. Certainly, if it doesn't, the people who provide the tax dollars given to the Chamber will demand that their contributions be more carefully managed or withheld altogether.

The dismissed manager, Frank McCarron, was right when he said all eyes would be on the Chamber, but that observation will be more intense and last well past the annual meeting next Wednesday.

Bantering on the hill

- by Bill Scott, M.P. -

Now that summer has gasped its last breath, one of the most beautiful seasons of the year has proliferated its colour spectrum on all horizons like a peacock.

Parliament has returned to its normal bantering which accompanies the careful scrutiny of proposed legislation. Most of the bills that the government declared were its priorities in this session have been dealt with. Thus, it would appear that this session may be prorogued before the one week recess on November 4th.

Speculation is that the Throne Speech to be given at the start of the new session will be filled with goodies designed to make the electorate forget the economic woes of the country. This would seem to make sense, as it will most likely be the last Throne Speech before the next election. I hope that the measures are substantial and meaningful and not just all wind and fury designed to distract attention rather than cure the real problems facing Canadians.

One of the areas that many of you express concern to me about is postal service. Two major issues that have recently arisen of this regard are the removal of a number of postal pick-up boxes in Lindsay, and the decision of the Rideau Division of Canada Post to require all mail carrier contracts above $10,000 to be submitted to public tender when the current contract expires. On the latter issue, I asked Canada Post for an explanation of why this decision was made in light of the fact that in 1981 the President of Canada Post stated that "A contract for the transportation of mail is usually for a period of five years and may be renewed for a further period not exceeding five years when the expenditure under it by the Canada Post Corporation in any contract year does not exceed $25,000." They have now reverse the recent decision and all those who have received letters due to their expiring contract being under $10,000 will be re-instated as long as the performance has been satisfactory.

I have brought the issue of the postal pick-up boxes in Lindsay to the attention of Michael Warren. To date, I have had no response. As a follow-up, I prepared a question for the Minister responsible for Canada Post in the House of Commons. I hope this will bring some action.

Working at the LCBO

by John Eakins, M.P.P.

I receive many letters from constituents wondering how to go about securing employment, either temporary or full-time, with the Liquor Control Board of Ontario. Many have felt that in order to secure employment you have to know which string to pull. I thought it was time to ascertain the Board's hiring policy with regard to filling vacancies when they occur.

I wrote to Mr. G.T. Lang, the personnel director, and the following is an excerpt from his letter on how to proceed:

"When permanent vacancies occur temporary employees, who have a current application for full-time employment, in the geographic area are then invited to a pre-employment examination. Employees who successfully complete this examination are then assessed in terms of a personal interview and work performance reports submitted by the District Supervisor with consideration being given to their amount of temporary service.

"At one time the local manager was responsible for the hiring of temporary employees, but his proved in some cases to be unsatisfactory, hence the present procedure.

"The exception to this system will be the hiring of Christmas help. It would be impossible to administer this function through the Personnel Department, therefore, managers are instructed to hire their own Christmas help on a quasi-contract basis with the understanding that this work ceases on December 24."

So if you wish employment with the LCBO, make sure you have application submitted, and I recommend it be renewed every six months to a year. Send applications to: Personnel Director, Liquor Control Board of Ontario, 55 Lake Shore Blvd. East, Toronto, Ontario M5E 1A4.

A wonderful summer has come and gone.

Thanksgiving weekend was mostly cool and dull in the weather department, but there were possibly a record number of visitors in our lovely town.

However, due to the "lake" in the walkway between the Coneybeare building and the Bowes & Cocks office, a lot of tourists and local people had trouble getting to and from Milne St. and Main St.

The "lake" I refer to is in the control of our municipal council per an agreement signed by myself and other parties a number of months ago.

This weekend, a lot of business may have been lost due to the "lake" ...i.e. - the mini fair display, other businesses in the area, plus an Indian Craft Sale.

The walkway is very popular until it rains. First of all, the rain falls from the sky, on to the Henderson building, thence the shed of water from the northwestern side goes into the basement of the Coneybeare building AFTER laying in the walkway for an aggravating period of time.

Many people use this walkway each day. When it rains they become angry because no one likes soaked feet.

Perhaps the municipality could afford to station canoes or rowboats at each end of "the lake" in the walkway, or even a piggy-back service wouldn't be out of the question until the above problem is corrected.

Al Coneybeare, Minden.

Editor:

In our current society we seem to be bombarded with negative news in the domestic, national, and international scenes. Too often we become fearful, suspicious, and defensive; sometimes we try to become oblivious to it all. However, there are realistic reasons to be optimistic. Of course, much good continues to exist in society, and we need to bring it more into the open.

A few months ago the Help A Village Effort (H.A.V.E.) Committee was formed. Initially, the purpose of the Committee was to complete the funding of the construction of a chapel in Ibrahimpuram Village, India. This chapel was started when $1,000 was contributed in June, 1982 from the balance of the Refugee Fund of the Haliburton United Church Pastoral Charge to Rev. K.J. Victor, director of the Word Ministries Of India (W.M.O.I.) in Hyderabad.

Since its formation the H.A.V.E. Committee has not only received and forwarded monies for the chapel project but it has arranged for the sponsorship of 4 children, a senior citizen, and it is receiving funds for the drilling of a village well. In order to obtain registered income tax receipts and to avoid expenses, all donations to H.A.V.E. projects are forwarded 100% to the W.M.O.I. via The Christian Mission, Fort Erie, Ontario.

Western travellers in India are bound to be impressed by the industriousness, the pride, and the determination of that country's citizenry. However, like many other developing countries, India's difficulties are somewhat staggering, especially when seen from a westerner's perspective. Still with the appropriate aid in the right places, much can be done by the more affluent nations to enhance the opportunities of those who are being seriously deprived of the basic needs of life.

The H.A.V.E. Committee considers it imperative that self-help projects be established in the villages of our world. Such action can considerably reduce the need for many individuals and families to migrate to the squalor of urban slums. Although the W.M.O.I. has quite an emphasis on Christian evangelism, still it ministers extensively to the medical educational, social and physical needs of the Harijans (the poorest of the poor) of the many villages in the Hyderabad area. Since one of our members have seen some of the results of the W.M.O.I.'s efforts in India, and because we have had Rev. Victor visit us in this area, the H.A.V.E. Committee has taken on projects pertaining to Indian Villages. Still, it is prepared to take on vital village projects anywhere in the world.

In its first big effort to involve the people of Haliburton County with self-help projects in villages in India, the H.A.V.E. Committee will be presenting at the high school on Saturday, November 5 (8 p.m.) an autumn concert of local musical artists: namely, Julie Hunter, Nancy Robichaud, Marilyn Stouffer, and Rich Vaughan as well as such groups as the St. George's Gospel Choir, and the Highlands Dixie Band.

On November 5 you will not only experience excellent local artists but you will have an opportunity to contribute to your H.A.V.E. Committee Fund. Villages of our County can share the concerns of villages in India by contributing to practical, self-help projects in Indian villages.

Members of the H.A.V.E. Committee:

Lon Duncombe, Gerry Feltham, Keith Hill, John James, John Stouffer, Howard Robles, Wendy Wilkins.

Three months ago at my request the Board of Directors selected a new manager and I reduced my responsibilities with the Chamber of Commerce. Last week at a meeting of the Board of Directors I and the Board agreed the new system was not working to the benefit of either myself or the Chamber. As a part of the solution to the problem I proposed that the part-time position that had been created for me be dispensed with and I am therefore no longer working for the Chamber of Commerce.

I wish to stress that I am in full agreement with the decision the Board has just made and I believe it to be in the best interests of the Chamber and its members under the circumstances. I will continue to support the goals of the Chamber and I urge all members of the community to do the same.

I would sincerely like to thank all of the people who have worked with me, either on the Board or in the background over the past eight years for not only their help but their consideration and encouragement. It is gratifying to know that these efforts are beginning to show results and we can look forward to even better days ahead for our County. I look forward to chatting with many of you, as always, at the Annual Meeting on October 19th.

Bob Stinson, Haliburton.

We would like to thank you very much for your splendid coverage of our Annual Summer Regatta on Lake Boshkung. It is always a treat to see one's name in print and even moreso to see one's picture.

Thank you again for taking time out of your busy schedule to cover our event.

Sincerely, Linda Cherry, Secretary, The Boshkung Lake Cottagers Association.

Editor:

M.P.P. John Eakins' recent two-part series on Ontario Hydro and nuclear energy raises a lot of important issues but leaves a number of gaps. I would like the opportunity to round out Mr. Eakins' assessment so your readers can make up their own minds.

His primary objection seems to be that Hydro's commitment to nuclear is costly and unnecessary. Let's focus on cost. Nuclear plants are expensive to build, that's true. But, once built, they are almost inflation proof. In 1982, the total unit energy cost (operation, maintenance, fuel, depreciation and financing charges) at Ontario Hydro's nuclear plants averaged 1.7 cents/kilowatt-hour compared to 3.4 cents/kilowatt-hour for our coal-fired generation. In fact, the coal alone to fuel coal-fired stations costs more than the total unit energy cost of nuclear-generated electricity.

The current shutdown of Unit No. 2 at our Pickering station is a case in point. It has been widely reported that it's costing $200,000 to $250,000 a day for replacement power generated from coal. This demonstrates quite clearly the cost advantage of nuclear generation. In fact, in the decade or so that the Pickering station has been in service, it has saved Ontario power consumers about $800 million that they would otherwise have paid for coal-fired capacity.

Mr. Eakins also argues that Hydro's nuclear program is unnecessary because Hydro can now generate "50 per cent more power than it needs." It's true we have surplus capacity—about 42 per cent. But 25 per cent is kept in reserve for emergencies and maintenance, a standard practice among utilities, which leaves us with a real surplus of 17 per cent.

There are two reasons for this surplus. The OPEC price hikes of the 1970's threw energy use patterns into a tailspin which resulted in a dropping growth in demand for electricity. Like almost every other North American utility in the last decade, Hydro was gearing up to meet a level of demand that simply didn't materialize. Accordingly, we have cancelled or deferred about 12 million kilowatts of planned capacity and are re-orienting Hydro to a period of slower growth.

Second, Hydro's surplus is also a reflection of the slowdown in industry over the past two years. During 1982, industrial capacity was down to 66 per cent. If industries aren't producing, they don't use a lot of electricity. But as the effects of the recession begin to wear off, industrial capacity will begin to increase and Ontario's electricity supply system will be ready.

What about mothballing coal stations and building nuclear at the same time?

Like all facilities, coal stations wear out. Both the Hearn and Keith stations are over 30 years old and coming to the end of their economic operating lifetime. Do we put a lot of money into older facilities, giving us band-aid solutions for the present but no security for the future? Or do we continue with a program that will ensure non-polluting, reliable and economical electricity into the next century? For the longer term, we have to ensure energy security. And Hydro's nuclear stations do just that.

That's not to say coal will disappear from the picture. Coal plants will still be used to provide peaking power as well as to serve as back-up capacity should any of our nuclear units be down as Pickering's Unit No. 2 is now. And we'll also continue to depend on our hydro-electric capacity for a significant portion of the province's electricity.

Mr. Eakins' final comment is a call for a committee of the Legislature to look into Hydro's affairs—its rates, its financial picture and its accountability to the people it serves. If the government wants such an inquiry, Hydro will cooperate readily and completely.

But the value of such an expensive inquiry should be weighed against the facts:

—Hydro's rate increases have not kept pace with rising inflation. In the last five years, the cost of electricity in real terms, has actually fallen more than four per cent—making Ontario's power rates among the lowest in North America;

—Hydro's much publicized debt of $17.2 billion is balanced by assets of almost $23 billion and the financial community, which gives Hydro the top credit rating—triple A—obviously finds this proportion acceptable;

—Hydro is highly accountable to the people it serves because virtually all its activities are subject to approval or regulation by government or its agencies—the Ontario Ministry of Energy, the Ontario Cabinet, the Consolidated Hearings Board, the Environmental Assessment Board, the Ontario Energy Board, the National Energy Board and the Atomic Energy Control Board, to name a few.

Perhaps these additional facts and figures provide a better perspective of Ontario Hydro for the reader.

Sincerely, Milan Nastich, Chairman, Ontario Hydro.

Editor:

You have heard and published my views on the potential harm the new bridge proposed by Haliburton County for the Ingoldsby Narrows may do to the settlement of Ingoldsby, its scenic attractiveness, its tourist potential and to the environment of the area as well as the potential harm it may do to boating on the Kashagawigamog-Canning Lake chain.

Here is a letter sent to me and to the county and Federal governments (September 29, 1983) by a professional engineer, Mr. Kevin Walters, a long time summer resident. Mr. Walters has given me permission to send the letter to you for publication. He feels it is public in light of the several parties to whom he has sent it. I think your readers will find it an important letter with an important technical message.

Joseph Curtin, Ingoldsby.

Dear Mr. Axworthy:

This is further to correspondence initiated with Mr. Jean-Luc Pepin in regard to the Ingoldsby, Ontario Bridge.

Assurances have apparently been given by the Canadian Coast Guard that the new bridge at Ingoldsby will provide sufficient clearance. I strongly disagree, and feel their assurances may have been based on misinformation.

This summer, I requested a local large boat owner to measure the existing clearance under the Ingoldsby Bridge and thereby see if a reduction of 20.4 inches would still afford his boat clearance. He reported that it would not.

The water levels which we experienced this summer (which were a few inches below normal) confirmed the figures given in my previous letter of February 28, 1983.

With regard to Mr. Jesse Flis' reply of April 13, 1983, I wish to make the following comments:

1. Approval for the lowering should not have been given as few people were made aware of the issue. None of the local persons to whom I spoke were aware of any pending lowering. In speaking before about 60 Canning Lake Cottagers Association members, it was evident that they, too, had not been informed. After this talk, a motion to request the local Council to maintain the existing clearance (and draft) passed almost unanimously. Another concerned summer resident, likewise informed the Allsaw Cottagers Association (on Kashagawigamog Lake), with the same result. Obviously, any advertisements placed in the local newspapers did not reach those concerned.

2. I do not contest that the high water level of 1044.6 feet occurred in 1912 and 1916. This figure is certainly irrelevant. However, based on the datum used for the plan of the new bridge, it appears that a water level of 1043.7 feet (as opposed to 1043.5 feet as stated in Mr. Flis' letter) has occurred frequently in June during the years 1960 through 1980. It is possible that the elevation of 1043.5 feet was established at the control dam for the lakes, where the water level is certainly slightly lower than at the Ingoldsby Bridge. By my calculations, a 0.2 foot rise is reasonable between Canning Lake dam and the Ingoldsby Bridge. Whatever the case, a level of 1043.5 feet at normal high water still leaves a proposed clearance of only 6.0 feet which is still insufficient.

3. The average water level given in your letter is quite irrelevant as this is a reservoir lake and, as such, is annually subject to a fairly wide range of water levels. A bridge should be designed for a normal high water level, not an "average" level as it appears has been done here. This water level (1042.5 feet) is given on the filed Navigable Waters Plan and is misleadingly labelled "N.W.L.". Thus, the clearance of 2.1 m quoted by your letter is not applicable at average water level, which routinely is not reached until about August 1st, after being surpassed in the spring.

4. Finally, the proposed horizontal width of 84 feet, as shown on the Plan and quoted by your letter (25.6 m), is incorrect. That dimension is the apparent width as measured along the centreline of the travelled road. This road, however, is on a considerable skew and curved as well. The actual width (the shortest distance between opposite walls) is about 67 feet (20.4 m) as measured from the Plan, and thus represents about a 17 foot width reduction from the existing structure.

I hope I have given you sufficient grounds to review this approval. I assure you that if the new bridge is constructed as planned, considerable aggravation will be caused to many local boaters.

K.S. Waters, P. Eng.

Minden drivers claim top money

Minden drivers road the wave of cash rewards at the annual demolition derby Saturday at the Minden fairgrounds. Dave Burgess of Minden claimed the top prize of the day, taking home $1000 in his heroic effort to keep his car in motion while being tracked down by the other participants.

Art Nye, also of Minden, claimed second prize of $500, while third prize went to Jack Prentice, also of Minden. He won $300.

The annual event is sponsored by the Kinsmen Club of Minden and has been growing in popularity since it began. This year 73 cars were on hand for the main competition. According to organizer Tom Prentice that topped last year's figure of sixty entrants.

In addition, there were ten participants in the powder puff event and 32 vehicles which limped back into the ring to take part in the consolation round.

Top driver of the day, Dave Burgess, was also presented with the Gilberts Trucking Trophy, as the 1983 champion.

The Dixie Lee Cup, given to the winner of the powder puff event, was presented to Sheryl Cayley of Lindsay. She also received a $200 cash prize and a certificate for dinners at the local Dixie Lee Restaurant.

In the consolation rounds, Ralph O'Connell of Lindsay placed first in the first heat claiming a prize of $45; Jim Henderson of Lindsay was tops in the second heat winning $55; and Wayne Hurkens of Mount Albert was awarded $60 for being top driver in the third consolation heat.

An excellent crowd brave chilly winds to cheer on their favourites and enjoy another successful Minden Kinsmen Demolition Derby.

Photographs to the left show some of the exciting action Saturday at the demolition derby.

Sod flies at grass drags

Bryce Gilbert presents the Brynell Gilbert Memorial Trophy to Glenn Dalzell following the championships run at the grass drags. Below, the snowmobiles lift off the starting line on their way down the track.

The Haliburton County Snowmobile Association held their second annual grass drag races on Sunday and Monday.

Entries from throughout Southern Ontario competed for trophies and cash prizes. Proceeds from the event will be used for Snowmobile trail grooming in the county.

Winner of the Brynell Gilbert Memorial trophy for the Super Pro class was Glenn Dalzell who also placed first in the Modified Stock 4, AA Stock, and A Stock classes. Harold Clarke won the Modified Stock 2 and 3 classes.

Winners of the Super Modified classes were, for the 660 class, Dan Brown, the 440 class, Willie Houthuys and the 340 class, Ron Ryzek.

Kerry Micks was the top racer in the B and C Stock class. Byron Stickland won the D and G Stock classification, Mike Gordon the F Stock and Tim Williams finished first overall in the Junior Stock class.

The racers with the highest accumulation of points over the two day event were declared the winner in each class.

The first group of the Katimavik participants will leave Minden early Thursday morning following a three month stay in the community. While here, the first group was involved in renovations at the County Town Museum, improvements to the Gull riverbank, and painting the interior of the community arena. Members of the group were thanked for their contribution to the community at a party Thursday evening. Members of the group include, from the left, back row, John McLenachan, Petra Brouwers, Robert Lague, Drew Glen, Andre Bouchard, Carol Jokanovich, Ed Hink and Leon Stanley. In the front row, Diane Roi, group leader Scott Moody, Lise Hachey and Natalie Beland. The group will now spend three months in Val d'Or, Quebec before finishing their Katimavik experience in British Columbia. A new group of participants will arrive Thursday.

Huskies lose season opener

After being undefeated in their exhibition season, the Haliburton Huskies lost their first game of the regular season against the Huntsville Blair McCanns. They made up for that loss next evening.

Redmen split pair

The inclement weather kept the spectators away but the cold rain couldn't dampen the enthusiasm of the HHSS Redmen soccer team when they hosted LCVI on Wednesday afternoon.

Enthusiasm was not enough for the junior Redmen however, as they were defeated 5-1 by a stronger Lindsay team. Kevin Barry scored the only Haliburton goal on a cross from Barry Scully.

The senior Redmen fared much better on the rain soaked playing field as they shut-out the opposition 2-0. Tim Wood scored in the first half kicking in a loose ball in front of the Lindsay net.

The Redmen came close to scoring a number of times in the second half but the mud and wet grass made ball control difficult. Dave Story finally booted in a goal on a pass from Dwayne Warburton. The senior Redmen remain undefeated and are tied for first place with Fenelon Falls.

These two teams will be playing in Haliburton this Wednesday, October 12.

The game played Friday night in Huntsville started well for the Huskies. Goals by captain Scott Arbuthnot, David Nicholls, Tony Scheffee, Jeff Smith and Scott Rae had the Huskies ahead 5-2 at the end of the first period.

Huntsville added three goals in the second period but a pair of goals by Scott Arbuthnot kept the Huskies ahead 7-5 at the end of 40 minutes of play.

The game turned around in the third period as the Blair McCanns scored 4 unanswered goals including the final goal of the game into an empty net.

Captain Scott Arbuthnot with a hat trick and an assist and Scott Rae with a goal and 3 assists played well in the losing cause.

Saturday win

It was a different story Saturday evening as the Huskies dominated the game against the Penetang Kings in Haliburton.

Jeff Stamp wasted no time in scoring at the 47 second mark of the first period. Bernie Upton added another goal one minute later. Penetang evened up the score but Scott Arbuthnot put the Huskies ahead just before the end of the first period.

The home team got off to another fast start when Scott Rae popped in a goal seven seconds into the second period. Three minutes later Jeff Stamp added his second goal of the game.

While the Huskies goalie Dave Story made a number of crucial saves the offensive lines kept up the pressure on the Kings. Then captain Scott connected on his second goal of the game and David Nicholls added a pair to put the Huskies ahead 8-2 by the end of the second period.

Penetang was able to score twice before the end of the game but it was a losing cause.

The Huskies assistant captain David Nicholls had a very productive game with 2 goals and 4 assists. Scott Arbuthnot and Jeff Stamp had another strong game.

Looking back

The report of the Canadian Land and Emigration Company's eighteenth annual meeting was full of optimism. Reports were received about successful farming operations, profits from timber and increased settlement. The following is a continuation of the report of that meeting, started in the last edition of Looking Back:

Mr. Strickland has taken out timber to the amount of $1,500 from Harcourt, and an arrangement has been made, on favourable terms, with Messrs. Bronson and Weston, (Bronson and Weston were successors to Harris and Bronson, lumbermen in the Ottawa Valley. When the Canadian Land and Emigration Company bought the ten townships, part of the land was under timber licence to Harris and Bronson. According to an agreement, Harris and Bronson were to pay timber dues to the Company on these lands on the same terms on which they would have paid the government) superseding their hitherto uncertain and unsatisfactory relations to the Company.

The expenses incurred during the past year in road-making have been heavy, but it is the opinion of the Board that settlement can be best encouraged in this way: the greater portion of the cost will, however, be repaid out of the 10 per cent reserve in the hands of the Government.

The purchase of the mills at Haliburton, recommended in the last report, has been carried out and improvements made in the machinery, which will prove to be of great benefit to the surrounding district. A good stock of sawn and seasoned lumber is now on hand, and the building trade is expected to be very brisk this year in Haliburton. Directions have now been sent to the Manager to seek for an eligible tenant at a rent sufficient to give an adequate return upon our outlay.

The Manager's return to 31 December last, shows the land sold or leased during the past year to be 4,883 acres, making a total of 16,560 acres sold and leased, of which 2,226 acres are cleared...

The free grants of Government lands in the immediate vicinity continue to operate disadvantageously to the rapid settlement of our territory. The effect will not ultimately be adverse, and the intention of the Government to give assistance to railroads seems to hold out a real prospect of our obtaining that much-desired access to our lands. The Board are anxious that the Shareholders should contemplate the possibility of their being called upon, at no distant date, to decide whether they will make some present sacrifice to ensure these advantages.

On the broad contemplation of the results of last year's work, the Board consider the financial position of the Company such as to warrant their taking action under the 7th clause of Section V of the Articles of Association, and they therefore give notice of their intention to make a return of 2s.6d. per share in reduction of the Capital of the Company; leaving the amount paid up in each share £3.7s.6d. This step, they have no doubt, will meet with the approbation of the shareholders.

In accordance with the Articles of Association, Mr. Charles Gurney retires from the Board at this meeting, but, being eligible, offers himself for re-election...

In pursuance of the powers contained in clause 8 of Section XIII of the Articles of Association, the Auditors have, with the approbation of the Directors, appointed as local Auditor in Canada, Mr. John Carnegie, representative of the County of Peterborough, in the Provincial Parliament of Ontario, and the Canadian accounts, as audited by him, are embodied in the Balance-sheet certified to by the London Auditors, and herewith submitted.

By order, J. W. Collins, Secretary.

by Bert Harrison

It is a lovely morning and it gives you a thrill to look across and see the colour on the hill. Our Administrator is on two weeks holiday, we won't cause him any worry while he is away. Have a nice holiday, forget Hyland Crest to be good children we will do our best.

At chapel service Sunday night we had no one the music to play. Both Hal and Ruth Thompson were away. Trust Rev. Burgess to always look away beyond. He brought a tape recorder and played a lovely choir singing from away across the pond. Mrs. Burgess read Psalm 32 and led in prayer, a real interesting service, but not too many there.

Millie Wood is around this morning looking very fine, she had some of her family in last night to dine. Different ones came to visit their mothers this weekend. Bill Johnson, Ray Jenkins the Cox family and many others, some to visit sisters, or some to visit brothers. The Shorter's son came up from Oshawa and had a nice visit in their town house with his Ma and Paw. Watched Monday night, three movies overall "Bluebirds of Happiness", "Northern Games", and "Cornhusk Dolls."

Tuesday morning Rev. John Phillips of the Anglican church Haliburton, conducted Communion service in the chapel. He played and sang "He touched me" (a beautiful solo) Rev. Phillips we are always glad to see.

Dear Agnes:

It is with deep regret from the residents here when we learned of your leaving after serving so faithfully for so many years. You played the organ in the chapel, week after week, no remuneration ever did seek. Please accept this gift of our appreciation, we hope you will be happy in your new location. Our prayers go with you whatever you do and may God's richest blessing rest upon you.

Tuesday afternoon we had a memory test on history, we were divided into groups A & B. It surely sharpened the wits of everyone, real interesting and a lot of fun. Then Tuesday night was music night, Earl Cooper couldn't come. Cathy Owens and Al Smith came and really made things hum.

We have nurse Lynda Williams back from a months holiday, also Jack Shaw is back. They keep coming and going all the time, we just can't keep track. We also have Mrs. Shuyler back from hospital, what is the trouble still remains a riddle. We are sorry to lose Mrs. Deumo, she has returned to her home in West Guilford, life at the Crest was too slow.

Thursday afternoon the ladies of Minden Friendship group brought in a tasty lunch and said enjoy this and relax, one of the ladies was from Halifax. The Bingo numbers were called Thursday night by Kinsmen members Steve Crowe and Murray King, thank you for coming much pleasure do you bring.

Friday afternoon Doris wanted to take a bus load of residents to see the colours, but couldn't get help to keep us in place. To drive the bus, look after us, she wouldn't face. So in the auditorium they had a quiz instead, we were not there so do not know which side is ahead. We had Mr. and Mrs. Roy Rogers from Vernon, B.C. call and have lunch with us on Saturday. This has been a busy weekend here at Hyland Crest, some went to have Thanksgiving with relatives, which was just fine, others came to visit relatives here and stayed with us to dine. Millie Wood went to her home in Haliburton which was a nice break. Della Curry went with her son to Haliburton Lake. I think Ruby Lewis went with her daughter, I expect someone came and got her.

The following letter was taken from the Lindsay Post, written by a grade four student, I think it is worth repeating.

Dear Editor: Harry was a smoking man, he smokes six packs a day, his lungs were filled with tar and smoke, he didn't know what to say, but he soon found out without a doubt, that smoking doesn't pay, so Harry quit, and now he's fit. Harry knows the way (Jane Austen)

Legion Branch 129 news

In the absence of President McKay, away on holidays, Comrade Mike Hawman chaired Branch 129 General meeting on October 6. Mrs. MacDonald was introduced, and as a goodwill gesture, she presented Branch 129 with a flag from her Branch in Toronto, Australia. One comrade, William N. Disley, was initiated.

Dunc MacLean is doing a good job of keeping us informed of those on the sick list. Please contact Dunc if you know of someone ill.

The Executive will be glad to see Joan Irish back with us.

At this time, we extend our sympathy to Reg and Olive Crockett on the sudden death of their son last week.

Stan Moore reports everything in order for the Poppy campaign, and our very competent Sgt.-at-Arms, Jim Hobson, will have a heavy schedule of parades. Mel Robertson reports that a service will be held at the Minden Cairn on November 13, at 2:00 p.m.

Other activities include liaison work with Haliburton Highlands School of Fine arts to co-ordinate an exhibition of Military works, in early November, at Rails' End and Agnes Jamieson Galleries. If you have framed photos, newspaper clippings, medals or other memorabilia to display, please contact Phil Graham at 286-2024, or Mabel Brannigan at 489-3238.

Earl Shipley is getting plans underway for a new building for cadets. Sylvia Sisson reports over 70 cadet applications. A piper is needed for the band, and Don Johnston seems happy to have found a very capable band instructor, Mr. Thompson.

Your Branch officers have attended several recent educational functions, and one of the most successful was a seminar for Membership, Poppy, Sports, and Public Relations chairpeople. Every branch in the zone was represented.

Another important service your Branch provides, is an opportunity to have direct consultation with a D.V.A. representative. For an appointment, or for more information, contact Lloyd Whittaker.

Among Branch 129 donations this month, was a colour television for the Haliburton Association for the Mentally Retarded, and also one hundred dollars to the Canadian National Institute for the Blind.

Plan to attend the General meeting on November 3rd, and take part in the important decisions that are made.

Mabel D. Brannigan,
Public Relations Officer.

around the county town

by Yvonne Guida

I hope you all had a joyous Thanksgiving. I know mine was very nice. I chatted with Mr. daughter-in-law Cathy in New York. She and Doug were baptising their baby Kimberly, and I spoke with my daughter Debbie in Colorado. Then Dad and I went to the Fireside for a lovely Thanksgiving dinner. The place was packed, incidentally.

There was a very successful demonstration held in the Common Room of the Agnes Jamieson Gallery last week when demonstrator Christine Dukelow from Lindsay lectured on Home Repairs. Everyone came away with a lot of ideas.

One of my friends in New York is Captain of Detectives, Frank Bolz. Over the years Frank has headed teams that took on their shoulders the hijacking of the bus at Kennedy Airport, which was finally cornered and disabled. People were killed but almost all were saved. The threatening to blow up the World Trade Centre by a nut, saving a man on a Manhattan rooftop who threatened to jump. Frank can tell you stories to make your hair stand on end. He knows of the mistakes made in the tragedies at Attica and the massacre of Israelis at the Olympic Games in Germany. In short, he is a great cop, and deserved much respect and I am happy to count him as a friend.

Last Saturday I was very pleasantly surprised to receive a visit from a very old and dear friend and his wife, Roy and Vicki Rogers who now reside in British Columbia. It was great seeing them again.

I am very sorry to hear that Jane Bibby of the Fireside is ailing. I am sure everyone hopes she will soon be well. We miss you Jane.

I have taken on the mammoth job of writing a novel. It's going pretty well and if I every get it published, the name of it is The Claw of the Cat, a tale of the supernatural.

If you have the stomach for it, I dare you to read Peter Straub's book, Floating Dragon. I guarantee you will never forget it!

I was talking to a very close friend last evening, Helen Probst. She is the assistant to the President of Adelphi University. Timothy Costello. Tim used to Mayor Lindsay's assistant before he became President of the University.

Anyway, Helen attended the function of the Columbus Society in America at the Waldorf Astoria Hotel. She was escorted by John Braidon of Channel 7's Good Morning America. The guest of honour was the gorgeous Sophia Loren. Among the distinguished guests was Governor Cuomo. It must have been a lovely affair and I envy Helen. I have been to the Waldorf on many occasions and it is a gorgeous hotel.

For your listening pleasure, Placido Domingo - My life for a Song.

I am sorry to report that Mr. Albert MacDuff from Gooderham passed away last week. Pur condolences to the members of his family.

Joyce Hewitt and her son Fred attended the funeral of her sister Mrs. William Purkiss of Orillia. Mrs. Purkiss was the former Olive Rogers. She was interred at the Stone Church Cemetery in Beaverton. She leaves two sons and her husband. Our deepest sympathy to the members of her family.

Esther Gibbs from Calgary, Mrs. Harold Morgan, visited Joyce Hewitt last weeks.

Fred Brooks, former reeve of Minden, now of Vancouver Island, is visiting acquaintances in the area.

On Wednesday last I really had a beautiful experience. Yvonne Beauchage directed a group of us to the Whetung Ojibwa Gift Shop and Art Gallery at the Curve Lake Indian Reserve. It is positively overwhelming and if you were there for a week you wouldn't see it all. We were treated to a private preview showing of Joseph Jacob's sculpture (still in progress) which consists of five large limestone panels which will be placed in the House of Commons. Whetung will be having their annual Thanksgiving Open House and the following artists will be showing their art: Bent Reinert, Brian Ateyo, Pie Menger, Lynn Cassels-Caldwell, Jeanne Cronk, Jude, Joseph Jacobs, David Johnson, Michael Robinson, Jamie Sherman, George Kovacs, Eddie Lepage, Betty Leung, Jim Majury, Nori Peter, Al Poolman, Joan Tovey, Arelene Stephens, Paul and Bev Williams, Julius Varga and Dorothea Weise. The place is absolutely mind-boggling. Joseph Jacobs is a fantastic genius with his mallet and chisel, what he can do with stone. I'm sure my former mentor, Francis Loring, rest her soul, would certainly be impressed. It was a very dull, rainy day, but considerably brightened by our visit. They also have a Christmas shop in addition to their tremendous gift shop. Do go!

Winners of last Thursday's card party at St. Paul's were: Lone Hands - Pat McCarthy, his wife Margaret McCarthy and Freda Stacey.

Weekend visitors with Florence and Phil Robinson were their son Bradley from Toronto and Vicky and Roy Rogers from Vernon, British Columbia. Sympathy is extended to the relatives of the late Olive (Rogers) Purkiss who died recently in Orillia. Several from here attended her funeral on Friday in Beaverton.

Senior curling notes

—submitted—

Is the curling season here yet.

President Al Stott of the Minden Senior Curlers held a cheese and wine inaugural meeting and entertained more than 80 senior ladies and men as well as extending a welcome to several new curlers who will be joining our winter activities.

Al and his wife Helen prepared a fine array of various cheeses, biscuits, and pickles (buffet style) and they, assisted by Cec. Riches, dispensed the chilled, palatable wine to the members and guests. President Al stated that our curling schedule will start October 24 (depending on ice conditions) and the scheduling committee will be in contact with the skips and their rinks. He advised the members that Shirley Brandon has been added to the Committee and he then asked that Ed. Pettinger explain the method used by the Committee in the choosing of 12-14 skips from a pool of 24 or more qualified and experienced players. Ed did so and also stated that George Dickie, former Executive of the Ontario Curling Association, will be giving talks to the members and new curlers on the ethics of curling. New curlers will be given several hours of instructions both on and off the ice prior to the scheduled date so that they can confidently join other curlers.

Various bonspiel dates have been confirmed by Chairman Tom Stinson and everyone is looking forward to a season of congenial activities at the curling club.

A vote of thanks was extended to Al and his committee for their efforts.
